INTRODUCTION

Language is a communication tool used to convey our ideas, thoughts and views on something. The science that studies language is called linguistics, one interesting branch of linguistics is sociolinguistics. Sociolinguistics is a branch of science that studies the relationship between language and social life (Megah & Susanto, 2023). Each person has different cultural characteristics, which affect the language variations they use. This shows that language has various variations in society. Language variety is divided into 5 parts they are: dialect, register, jargon, style, and slang. Slang is an informal word or phrase that is commonly used in everyday communication. Usually, slang arises from certain groups, such as teenagers, creative communities, or pop culture. These terms often reflect trends or characteristics of the individuals who use them. Slang represents a dynamic vocabulary that evolves with conversational trends. It carries figurative meanings specific to certain groups or classes, functioning as a kind of linguistic marker.

While slang has never been entirely uniform in meaning, it has always been characterized by its arbitrary nature. Typically, slang enjoys brief periods of popularity before fading into obscurity, either being relegated to forgotten words or included in abridged dictionaries. This element of exclusivity and secrecy may have contributed to its unique appeal and evolution over time (Reves, 1926). Slang is also use in various movies to express feelings of the character. Movie can channel emotions and other feelings to the audience, which makes the audience enter the storyline. Movie has many various/s type like action, romance, comedy, fantasy etc. One type of film that is in great demand by film lovers is fantasy films. Harry Potter is a fantasy film that is very famous and popular among the film industry, not only because of its interesting storyline, but also because of the characterization of the characters who play the film. In some scenes, the characters often use slang words to express their feelings. The use of slang words is interesting for the author to conduct research on slang words. The use of slang words in films is an interesting topic for writers to research.

In previous research entitled "Slang Words Analysis In Skin Movie" conducted by Rini Tarirohan and Wilany From the slang types that the researcher mentions, society slang was the slang words that most commonly used in the movie. Because this movie takes a lot of background places closely connected with society, so they used slang words in daily conversation. They make their relationship with the people around them closer. Then they spontaneously create new words that they can use to approach their relationship. The first research classify types of slang word by using theory According to Partridge (1950) in Vera Seprina (2018) he stated that slang words have nine-teen types of slang words, those are: Cockney, Public-House, Workmen's, Tradesmen's, Commerce, Publicity, Journalism, Literary Critics, Publishers and Printers, Law, Medicines, Church, Parliaments and Politics, Public School and Universities, Society, Art, Theater, Sports and Games, and The Turf. While in this study the author analyzes the types of slang words based on the theory of according to Allan and Burridge (2006) which classifies slang words into 5 types, namely fresh and creative, compounding, clipping, imitative, and acronym (Tarihoran & Wilany, 2021).

The second study written by IB Maha Adi Prastiawan, Komang Dian Puspita Candra, and Dewa Ayu Devi Maharani Santika in 2023 entitled "The Analysis Of Slang In Fast And Furious 4 Movie" Language analysis typically involves five key functions: expressive, informational, aesthetic, phatic, and directive functions. In the movie Fast and Furious 4, all of these functions are present. Among them, the aesthetic function, which primarily focuses on the speaker's role in conveying information to other characters, is the most frequently used. This is because the film emphasizes the mission from the perspectives of Dom and Brian. They often use slang to express themselves and share information with their business partners while carrying out their objectives and asserting their authority. Since the mission unfolds in an informal context, aesthetic slang is predominantly used to communicate details about the quest. The second research researchers classified slang words based on their function, therefore in this research the author classifies slang words based on their type (Maha et al., 2023).

The film that analyzed in this research is a fictional film related to the magical world or the world of magic, of course this is something new, because the slang words used will definitely be different from the slang words used in Hollywood films set in a country or the world in general, social life in the world of magic in the Harry Potter film will certainly affect the vocabulary of the characters and the slang words used. Slang words are often included in Hollywood movie scripts, but viewers who are not native speakers are sometimes confused or even misinterpret the meaning of the slang words, which of course becomes an obstacle for viewers to understand the contents of the story, also there are lack of research that discuss about the type of slang word many of research are classify slang word based on theirs function so author in this research want to classify slang word based on theirs type, based on the problems above the author decide to investigate slang words used in movies specifically the type of slang word.

REVIEW OF LITERATURE

Linguistic is a knowledge that learn about language. Language is the prime medium for human activities which develop man's ability and knowledge in language that helps human to develop their cognitive skills in different aspects. Language is relevant to the study of small groups in two ways. On the one hand, it serves as a medium for the exchange of ideas and interaction among group members, whose conversations can be recorded and analyzed by social scientists observing their behavior (Gumperz, 1970). Linguistic have many branch like morphology, syntax, pragmatic, and etc. One of linguistic branch that interesting is sociolinguistics.

Sociolinguistics is a branch of linguistics which studies or learns and discusses about the relationship between language variety and society (Megah & Susanto, 2023). Sociolinguistics examines the relationship between language diversity and aspects of community life. It can be concluded that social conditions influence that diversity of languages used. Sociolinguistics is the study of language use within or among groups of speakers (Megah & Susanto, 2023). Based on statements above, language and society cannot be separated from one another because they need each other and both of them also are significant to create a good communication in groups of speakers. Sociolinguistics is a branch of linguistics which studies or learns and discusses about the relationship between language variety and society. Because language and society are closed related, we can judge a group from the language used, therefore the type of language used in one group will be different with the language used in other group this can happen because language is form from social life. Since every language is concerned as medium, it communicates the message or information from one to another. Any culture can be seen through the nature of society, but all the time it is not possible. If anyone wants to learn any particular culture, it is possible through literature (Sankar, 2022).

Language is one of the most significant parts of human beings. It is a method to express our opinions to other people. It makes people understand each other easier. In order to share our ideas we need to speak a language. However, there are some words which cannot be understood easily such as Slang. According to Aminuddin (2008), meaning is the relationship between a language and the assumption about each word in the language where the assumption has been mutually agreed upon by the users of a language so that they will understand each other's meanings of these languages (Achmad et al., 2023). In everyday life, people often use slang as a means of communication that can better convey their emotions. Slang speech is characterized by various linguistic features that reflect the users' way of living and using the language with emphasis on belonging to a particular group of language users. Slang words are characterized by a high degree of informality, familiarity, and vocabulary richness (Airin et al., 2024). Slang words are a language which can be used in conversation among close friends, relatives, and acquaintances that some of them contains rude, crude, and sexual matters.

Some researchers have defined the definition of slang word as the branch of sociolinguistic. it is mean that slang word is an interesting topic to talk about. Some researchers that have give an opinion about slang word are Linhua and Tarirohan. Slang is the non-standard language or informal language. Although it is used for oral communication it is more effective than standard or formal English to describe sports, sex, and intoxication in daily conversation in life. Slang also changes over time and can disappear rapidly. At this time slang word often used in western movies and most used by young people (Tarihoran & Wilany, 2021). Slang is widely used in informal contexts and by groups with shared experiences or passions. Slang refers to "secret" words or phrases commonly used in song lyrics, literature, periodicals, television, movies, and informal conversation (Sitorus et al., 2024).

Audiovisual is a media that combines elements of images and sound. One of its advantages is that it is more communicative, because it presents information visually and auditively, making it easier to understand. Audio-visual media consists of three words, namely the word media, which means liaison, audio which means hearing, and visual which means vision, from the three meanings of the word it can be interpreted that audio-visual media is media that involves the senses of hearing and sight at the same time in one process (Setiyanti & Muhammadiyah Jakarta, 2021). As previously explained, that audio visual media has better capabilities than other media. This is because in this medium involves multiple senses, namely the sense of sight and the sense of hearing. This is because in this medium involves multiple senses, namely the sense of sight and the sense of hearing. As for those included in the audio-visual media class as follows: a) Sound film, b) Television (TV), c) Cassette video or VCD, d) Slides, and e) OHP (Overhead Projector). Each type of media used in the learning process has its own advantages and disadvantages, as well as audio-visual media.

A film is a work of art that conveys a message or meaning through the characterization of a character and has a storyline, which is arranged in a moving image. A movie is a marriage between technique and meaning. whenever filmmakers lay out a set, direct author to act in a certain way, place the camera in the right position, and assemble the resulting mess of shots into a coherent linear narrative, they not only tell the story but also make meaning. (Michael Ryan, 2020). Cinema, also known as movies, is an audiovisual medium that aims to entertain, inform, and teach. It is considered to be the most influential form of mass communication, as it has the power to pervade the consciousness of individuals. Movies combine realism with imagination and convey a lot of information in short timeframes (Harahap et al., 2023). movie has various genre like romance, horror, comedy, fantasy, etc. Film, a medium that displays images within frames, where each frame is mechanically projected through a projector lens.

This process creates the illusion of motion, making the images come alive on the screen. With its swift and continuous movement, film provides viewers with a profound visual experience. Each frame swiftly transitions, creating a sense of continuity in the presented storyline. Essentially, film is not merely a series of still images, but a medium capable of bringing stories to life and immersing its audience into the world created by the filmmaker. Film, as a dominant form of mass visual communication, attracts millions of viewers worldwide each week through various mediums such as cinemas, TV, and laser discs. Essentially, a film comprises a thin membrane made of celluloid, serving as a platform to project either negative images for portrait creation or positive images for cinema projection. The term "film" encompasses both narrow and broad definitions.

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

This research was conducted by applying qualitative descriptive design. A qualitative descriptive design is especially useful when gathering information directly from individuals experiencing the phenomenon being studied, and when the research is constrained by limited time and resources (Bradshaw et al., 2017). Qualitative research is a research using words, description, narratives and it is appropriate for exploring complex phenomena, uncovering nuanced insight, and understanding the daily activities of individuals or groups. The goal of qualitative descriptive studies is a comprehensive summarization, in everyday terms, of specific events experienced by individuals or groups of individuals. This research uses a descriptive qualitative research design to analyze slang word aspects in Harry Potter movie and the Chamber of Secrets. The most dominant slang word that used in Harry potter and the chamber of secrets movie is mudblood for six times. In the Harry Potter movies, the term "mudblood" is a highly offensive slang word used to insult Muggle-born witches and wizards—those who possess magical abilities but are born to non-magical parents. The word literally means "dirty blood" and reflects a prejudiced belief held by some pure-blood witches and wizards who consider themselves superior due to their magical ancestry. Characters like Draco Malfoy use this term to demean others, particularly Hermione Granger, who, despite her intelligence and magical skill, is targeted because of her non-magical family background. The use of "mudblood" highlights the theme of discrimination within the wizarding world, drawing a strong parallel to real-world issues of racism and social inequality.

Compounding slang word is the most dominant slang word that used in this movie. That because the harry potter films are set in a wizarding world that is different from real word. By creating slang that combines common words, the author (J.K Rowling) creates terms that feel familiar yet unique to the wizard world. For example mudblood gives a strong insulting impression without needing a long explanation. Compounding slang word helps create a magical vocabulary that feels both imaginative and familiar. By combining two existing word into one such as “mudblood” (mud + blood) the story introduces new concepts in a way that easy for audiences to understand. This technique adds depth to the wizarding world and reflects how real languages evolve within specific comunicaties. The use of compounding slang word also makes the language more engaging and suitable for younger viewers, making the magical word more believable and immersive.

Fresh and creative slang words are used in Harry Potter and the Chamber of Secrets to make the magical world feel more realistic, unique, and engaging. These slang terms help build a strong sense of identity and culture within the wizarding community, setting it apart from the non-magical world. The use of slang makes the characters’ conversations sound natural and age-appropriate, especially for young wizards like Harry, Ron, and Hermione. It also adds humor and personality to the dialogue, making it more enjoyable for the audience. Overall, the use of original and lively slang words helps bring the magical world to life and makes the movie more memorable. The use of fresh and creative slang words also supports the background of the story. The Harry Potter film is set in a British setting, so the use of slang words commonly used in everyday conversation by British people makes the film feel more relatable and familiar.

In the harry potter and the chamber of secrets movie the use of imitative slang words is the least and also very minimal.
